Distance: 6 miles (9.5 Kms) : Allow 3½ hours. Be aware that some parts of this route can be very muddy underfoot and stout boots with a good grip on the soles are essential.

At this point, observe 2 large gates 75 yds ahead and 30 yds apart. Walk towards the right-hand gate, to enter the adjoining field.
- 2–3 Proceed straight ahead for 150 yds, to aim for a gate on the far side of this field. Pass by the cottages on your left and immediately cross over a private driveway. ——— Descend a grassy footpath for 60 yds and cross over a stone stile, to link up with a farm track. ——— Turn left, then bear right (after 35 yds), to link up with a lane. ——— Turn right and follow this lane for just over ½ mile, to reach a minor X-junction.

 - (d) Now follow the well-defined path for 1/4 mile, then cross over the beck on your left, via some stepping stones, and immediately pass through a 4th gate.
 - (e) At this point, you must aim for the large barn seen ¹/₄ mile up ahead. In order to reach it, circumnavigate the low marshy area on your right, keeping to the foot of the crags on your left, then link up with a definite track to finally arrive at a wooden gate just below this building.
- 6-7 With the barn and farm on your left, ascend alongside the right-hand wall for 75 yds, signposted (Dales Way), then bear right and the grassy path leads to a large gate in a corner wall. In this last field, continue straight ahead and the path leads to a swing-gate with a lane and a cottage on the opposite side. ---- Turn left and this gated lane will terminate after $\frac{3}{4}$ mile at the Kendal/Bowness road.
- 7-8 Turn right and walk along the road for 150 yds, to reach a lane on your right. - Just on the other side of this lane, cross over a stone stile in the wall, to link up with a footpath. Proceed parallel to the road on your left for another 150 yds, then rejoin the main road. ---- Turn right then immediately turn right again, to link up with a hard-surfaced driveway. --- Within 15 yds, the driveway forks. ---- Bear left and 175 yds further on, (just prior to the cottage of Low Cleabarrow), turn left to enter a field.
- 8–1 Turn right and descend alongside the right-hand wall, to pass through a swing-gate. Within 25 yds, pass through 2 more swing-gates to enter the adjoining field. Bear right and follow the waymarkers, to aim for a gate in the far boundary wall. – In the next field, continue to follow the waymarkers, to arrive at a gate with a lane on the opposite side. Turn left and walk along the lane for ¼ mile, reach a Y-junction. Bear right, signposted (Bowness), to rejoin the Kendal/Bowness road. Turn right and walk along the right-hand side of the road, to return to the Linthwaite House Hotel.
